

Steven Chen, MD

Chief Medical Officer, ALL IN Alameda County

Steven Chen, MD is the Chief Medical Officer of ALL IN Alameda County in California and brings an integrative health equity lens to ALL IN's work on poverty. His areas of expertise include integrative medicine, health and racial equity, and innovative models of care that address social determinants of health (SDOH) and improve health outcomes. To this end, he is leading the scale and spread of a "Food as Medicine" initiative across Alameda County health clinics, health systems and food systems. Dr. Chen is also involved in policy efforts to make Medically Supportive Food and Nutrition services a covered health insurance benefit.
